

STATISTICS ON DIVORCE RATES IN DIFFERENT COUNTRY

Alijonova Sarvinoz Azizbek qizi

FerSU, 3th course Student

Annotation: In today's developing society, the number of families that end up in divorce is the majority. Every family is a developing link of society. Today, reforms are being carried out in the field of family reconciliation. This article compares the increase in divorce rates between countries.

Key words: Developing society, divorce, family, reconciliation, increase, country.

Mots of the couples that get divorced get married young, haven't been together for long, or are low wage workers. Marriage should be treated as something permanent with a lot of thought behind it. A lot of people don't talk with their partner before hand about it. Couples should also be encouraged to take precautions such as prenups in case shit goes south. Divorce lawyers are expensive. It may unsettle couples economically, abuse mentally and affect their status in society. The negative impact of divorce on children reveals very complex problems. Thus, divorce causes social, psychological and economic destruction not only on divorced couples, both also all family members. Both the marriage and divorce rates of U.S. women age 15 and older declined from 2011 to 2021. In 2021, the U.S. marriage rate was 14.9 marriages in the last year per 1,000 women, down from 16.3 a decade earlier. And the 2021 divorce rate dropped to 6.9 in the last year from 9.7 divorces per 1,000 women in 2011. Children whose parents have divorced are increasingly the victims of abuse. They exhibit more health, behavioral, and emotional problems, are involved more frequently in and drug abuse, and have higher rates of suicide. Children of divorced parents perform more poorly in reading, spelling, and math.

Who causes the divorce?

Whether accepted or not, there is one fact that cannot be disputed. And that is that women initiate divorce more often than men on average. Numerous studies have shown this. Nearly 70 percent of divorces are initiated by the wife. In addition, over 50% of divorced wives never want to remarry while only about 30% of men express that same sentiment. Seeing as most divorces are initiated by women, men can use this statistic to make sure they are being mindful of their wives' needs and wants. While it is established that about half of all marriages end in divorce, it is commonly assumed that the breakups are initiated by both genders equally. In fact, it is surprising to most people that women are actually more likely to end their marriages than men.

What is the divorce rate in the world?

Per the UN Yearbook, the divorce rate in 2021 was 1.8 using the available data on marriage and divorce worldwide. Many countries' data on the number of divorces for 2022 is pending, but based on the collected data for 56 countries, the average crude divorce rate in the world last year was about 1.6. The archipelagic paradise is world renowned for its tropical beaches and a diverse marine ecosystem, but seldom associated with divorce. Not only did the Maldives have the highest divorce rate in the world in 2021, but it also has the highest divorce rate of any country of time in history. Maldives tops the list with the highest divorce rate per 1,000 people, standing at 5.52, followed by Kazakhstan, Russia, Belgium, and Belarus. The United States comes in midway, with a divorce rate of 2.7 per 1,000 people, equaling countries such as Denmark, Lithuania, and Latvia. Divorce usually entails the canceling or reorganizing of the legal duties and responsibilities of marriage, thus dissolving the bonds of matrimony between a married couple under the rule of law of the particular country or state. It can be said to be a legal dissolution of a marriage by a court or other competent body.

Which country has lowest divorce rate?

Vietnam. Vietnam has the lowest divorce rate in the world, with 0.2 percent per 1,000 people.

Why is divorce rate the highest?

What are the most common reasons people give for their divorce? Research has found the most common reasons people give for their divorce are lack of commitment, too much arguing, infidelity, marrying too young, unrealistic expectations, lack of equality in the relationship, lack of preparation for marriage, and abuse.

we can see the factors that lead to separation through the table below

