From the early days of our country's independence, in every way education of a well-rounded and well-rounded person was defined as the main goal of our national education. Healthy, spiritual thinking in students formation has not yet lost its relevance. As everyone knows, The generation that has grown up with high spiritual thinking, the country in all aspects contributes to its prosperity. Definition of the concept of spiritual thinking before giving, it is necessary to analyze the meanings of the words "spirituality" and "thinking" separately. In the explanatory dictionary of the Uzbek language, the words "spirituality" and "thought" are defined as follows: "Spirituality is Arabic, moral state, all moral things, characteristics. A set of philosophical, legal, scientific, artistic, religious, moral and similar ideas and concepts of humanity. So, spirituality is a word related to morals and education

In order to unite the efforts of the participants in the educational process, the concept of "Cooperation between the family, the neighborhood and the educational institution" developed in 1993 became a program for coordinating the activities of the general public in raising young people to be loyal to the ideals of independence, morally mature, and patriotic. The main goal of the Concept "Cooperation of family, neighborhood, educational institution" is to develop and put into practice effective, modern pedagogical technology based on moral and universal values of the young generation, to ensure the priority of educating the individual and improving him in all aspects. is to increase the general and national pedagogical culture of parents, pedagogues and neighborhood activists, to improve the work of national ideological education among the citizens of the republic. In the concept, the national and generally human values, which are the spiritual and moral basis of the development of the society, the interrelationship and important directions of national and universal education are defined received. For example, it is necessary for young people to acquire such qualities as self-awareness, patriotism, national pride, culture of inter-ethnic communication, national ideological awareness, national manners, self-sacrifice in the direction of national education in the cooperation of neighborhood, family and educational institution. it is pointed out that it is important to cover the legal, economic, physical, intellectual, aesthetic, ecological, hygienic and other fields of education in the universal direction of cooperative pedagogical activity.

It is established in cooperation with the family, neighborhood and educational institution based on the following principles:

1. Unity of actions of the participants of the cooperation process in the field of education and training.
2. Harmony of respect and demand for the student.
3. Equal rights and high responsibility of the subjects of the cooperation process.
4. The priority of national and state interests in the process of activity.
5. Scientific basis of cooperation. <sup>1</sup>

Family-neighborhood-educational institution in raising a healthy generation in Uzbekistan is a guarantee of the results of cooperation. In this regard, the priority directions implemented by the government are as follows:

it is necessary to raise the prestige of the family, neighborhood and school to a higher level. On April 13, 2009 of the head of our state on additional measures to protect the health of mothers and children, to create a healthy generation, and on July 1, 2009, to strengthen the reproductive health of the population in 2009-2013, a healthy child Decisions on the program of measures to further strengthen and increase the efficiency of the work on birth, bringing up a physically and spiritually mature generation serve to ensure the consistency of such good works. Large-scale medical and social reforms implemented in our country serve to bring modern medical services closer to the population, strengthen reproductive health, and reduce extragenital diseases. The declaration of 1998 as the Year of the Family in Uzbekistan further strengthened the educational role of the family. The changes taking place in Uzbekistan in the direction of family, neighborhood, school cooperation require updating and implementing the main tasks of the family, parents, neighborhood, and school in child education. As defined in the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the Family is the main link of our society. Indeed, the family is a great force that shapes society. 2012 will be named the Year of the Strong Family on the initiative of the head of our country, and on this basis, the institution of the family, which has been the support and support of our lives since time immemorial, and which is the decisive link of our society, will be further strengthened.

It is well known to all of us that the decision to develop is intended to further strengthen and increase the well-being of the family, which embodies the eternity of life, the happiness, future, and aspirations of every person, and the implementation of noble plans to raise all our work in this regard to a new level.

The stability of families and prosperity of life is the basis for the future generation to become a perfect person. It is necessary to organize cooperation activities on the basis of the State Program developed this year as well. This requires the initiative and cooperation of the family, school and community. A neighborhood, like a family, is an integral part of forming a society. The history of our country testifies that the tested form of community living in Uzbek society is the neighborhood. The word "Mahalla" comes from the Arabic word "Mahallun" and means a place where people live, a village, a residential area. The neighborhood is a small territorial unit within the cities, which has been inherited from the past. It is not for nothing that our head of state said that peace and stability will prevail in the country only if the neighborhood is strong. Based on the saying that seven neighborhoods are parents to one child, the neighborhood, which is a small homeland, faces the following tasks in terms of raising and educating the next generation: to participate in the discussion of the necessary issues and to be active in finding reasonable solutions, to identify the families in their area who need social and economic support, to support them and to help their children receive education and education, discussing unhealthy families at neighborhood gatherings, taking public measures against them, supporting economic and social support for educational institutions in the neighborhood, encouraging children to be proactive and hardworking through parents, encouraging the inculcation of qualities such as national pride, patriotism, national decency, ideological consciousness, internationalism in every way; influencing young people to understand the essence of religious groups and sects, fanaticism through parents, mobilizing the public to imbibe the educational teachings of our great ancestors; is to organize the ideas of national statehood and national ideology at neighborhood gatherings, various events achieved in the economic and social spheres of our republic.<sup>2</sup>

In conclusion, it should be noted that in the upbringing of children, if the cooperation between school, community, and family is properly established, education becomes important in achieving the quality and efficiency of education and in realizing the goal set before us. . As the saying goes, "What a bird sees in its nest, it does what it sees in its nest." One of the great sages said, "If you think about a year, sow wheat, you will reap the harvest in the fall." If you think about ten years from now, create a garden, three or four years later, it will bear fruit. If you are worried about the future, give your children a good education. What is meant by this is that the future of your child is in the hands of your child, and what you give him will return to you.
